represented by
Shri Ramesh Desai.

— Opp. Party

Panaji, Date: 25-11-1981.

A W A R D

This is an application filed by the above Applicant against the above Opp. Party under Section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, claiming from the latter a sum of Rs. 728-09 as his overtime wages from June to December 1976 as per the details shown in the Annexure to the application.

2. Applicant's case is that he was in the service of the Opp. Party as Supervisor and had to supervise the work in the printing press of the Opp. Party beyond his duty hours at the instance of Shri N. V. Kakodkar, Partner of the firm, who had promised to compensate him for the extra time beyond his regular duty hours. Shri Kakodkar, however, failed to pay him the said amount and, when the Applicant made the demand, he was victimised and his services were terminated.

3. In his written statement the Opp. Party denies that the Applicant is entitled to any amount on account of his overtime wages and submits that he worked overtime only in July and August 1976 for 16 hours and 67 1/2 hours and was paid Rs. 35.20 and Rs. 148.50, respectively. This payment was made alongwith his pay of the respective months. The Applicant did not do any overtime in the month of June and from September to December '76, as claimed by him. That, whenever any overtime is done, the same is entered in the muster roll of the firm by the workman himself and he is paid accordingly.

4. In his rejoinder, the Applicant admits that he has received payment for the overtime done in the months of July and August '76, which is recorded in the muster roll, but insists that, beyond this, he has done more overtime, at the request of Shri Kakodkar, which was not entered in the muster roll by the Opp. Party with ulterior motive, in spite of the request made by the Applicant. The Opp. Party always promised to make the payment on a later date, which never came.

5. No issues were specifically framed by the Court. Evidence of both the parties was recorded on the submissions made by each of them. The Applicant examined himself and one Sunil G. Kerkar, whilst the Opp. Party examined Shri N. V. Kakodkar, Partner of the firm.

6. The only point that arises for the determination of this Court is as to whether the Applicant has proved that he has put in the overtime, as per the details given in the Annexure to the Application which would entitle him to claim from the Opp. Party Rs. 728.09 for the same.

7. I should answer to this issue in the negative and for the following reasons:

It is an admitted fact that the workman himself used to enter in the muster roll of the Opp. Party the overtime done by him and, accordingly, the Applicant has entered his overtime in the months of July and August '76 for 16 and 67 1/2 hours, respectively, for which he has been paid.

8. Applicant's contention is that, beyond this overtime, he has done further overtime, at the request of Shri N. V. Kakodkar, Partner of the firm, the details of which he has given in the Annexure to his application and that this overtime was not entered in the muster roll of the firm with ulterior motive. To prove this contention the Applicant has produced a list of such overtime prepared by him datewise and monthwise (Exhibit W-3), which allegedly is signed by some of the workmen of the firm.

9. This list was prepared at one stroke in January 1979, as it is admitted by the Applicant in his cross-examination; therefore, it is difficult to believe that the co-workers could remember all the overtime details mentioned by the Applicant in the list from June to December '76 to confirm its correctness. The Applicant has stated that he himself, in order to prepare Exhibit W-3 had to avail of his notings (Exhibit W-4) and the co-workers, who signed Exhibit W-3, checked the list (Exhibit W-3) with the notings prepared by the Applicant before they put their signatures on Exhibit W-3. It is to be noted, however, that the genuineness of such notings has been challenged by the employer. The Applicant has examined one of the signatories of the list, namely Shri Sunil Kerkar, but the statement of this witness also does not advance the cause of the Applicant, because the witness does not remember in what dates the Applicant has done overtime and states that he has signed the list Exhibit-3, prepared by the Applicant, at the request of the latter. In such circumstances, the list Exhibit W-3 cannot constitute any evidence in this case, since it was prepared on the basis of some notings made by the Applicant, the genuineness of which is challenged by the Opp. Party.

10. Further, it is an admitted fact that the workman himself used to enter the overtime in the muster roll of the firm and, accordingly, he has entered his overtime on the months of July and August '76 and received payment for the same. Being so, one fails to understand as to why there is no entry of overtime of the Applicant in the muster roll of the firm in the months of June & September to December 1976. The contention of the Applicant that he did not make entries in his muster roll regarding the said overtime, because the management told him not to do, otherwise the Inspector, who would check it, would harass the management if all the entries were made, cannot be accepted. I fail to see as to how and why the Inspector would harass the management if all the entries were made in the muster roll?

11. Finally, the fact that the Applicant remained silent from June 1976 onwards till January 1977, when he was not paid of his alleged overtime by the management, who had paid him the overtime of July and August 1976 as recorded in the muster roll, would also lead us to doubt about the seriousness of the claim now made by the Applicant.

12. In view of all that has been stated above, I pass the following order:
